FIVE CENTURIES OF DRAWING TO BE SHOWN AT THE CLEVELAND MUSEUM OF ART

FIVE CENTURIES OF DRAWING from The Cooper Union Museum will be on view in the Special Exhibition galleries of The Cleveland Museum of Art from January 17 through February 12.

About 100 of the finest drawings from the Cooper Union's collection have been selected to celebrate its 100th anniversary. The exhibition includes European and American examples and dates from the fifteenth century to the present.

The major portion of the drawings are designs for work to be executed in other media - for architecture, book ornament, metalwork, interior design and textiles as well as painting and sculpture. They present a refreshing diversity of style and subject matter of a quality rarely seen at one time.

The earliest work in the show is a small silverpoint drawing of a classical torso, dated about 1475, attributed to Benozzo Gozzoli. The most recent drawing is one of Eugene Berman's studies for the decor of 'Amahl and the Night Visitors.' Among other artists represented are Gido Reni, Tiepolo, Guardi, Toselli, Oppenort, Oudry, Bouchardon, Belanger, Guys, Toeput, Troger, Chippendale, Church and Haseltine.

The show is touring museums throughout the country under the auspices of The American Federation of Arts as one of its featured Golden Anniversary Exhibitions.
